GOOD ADVICE FOR THE BARSTOW ORGANS .- The freen Bay Advocate, the leading democratic paper in Northern Wisconsin, comments at some length and with much severity, upon the ridiculong attempt of the Madison Argus, to distort the figures of the late convess and convert a minority into a majority. The Advocate rebukes the Argus, too, for its unmaply and pitiful personal warfare upon Gov. BASHEORD, and advises it to change its tacties, for its own, as well as its party's sake. We copy the closing paragraphs of the article and commend them to the digestion of the News, which imitates and tries to rival the Argus billingsgate :

officers, with the incontestible proof before be found with the people of Troy, or other places without railroad facilities for making an honorable and carnest effort to build one : but that Milwauwantee, or Elkhorn, or Delayan, has any interest in building another road to Eikhorn or Delavan from Milwaukee, when there is one already built and in operation, and by this arrangement the same as one continuous Rail Road from Milwaukee to these points, is not so easy to discern .--And as a matter of stock investment to any man who is asked to put his money in it, it seems that very little cyphering ought to settle that. If the Racine and Mississippi R. R. now running to Delayan, doing all the transporting business of lamber, and produce, and passengers, to and from Lake Michigan, can make Lut a small dividend after paying running expenses, what will two tailroads do when dividing that business? Ask your readers to cypher on that sum in the rule of three direct. But as I said before, however much the interests of our Rail Roads or City may be affected by such a project, men have a right to do as they please with their own money, and if they choose, to invest it in fancy stocks or paper cities. My only purpose is to defend the action of our City and Rail Road from the charge of illiberality, which I doubt not was hastily made, and, when daly considered, will be honorably retracted. Mr. WELLS. I would simply state that this is one of the enstom-houses authorized by the last Congress, and is of the same character as those that were ordered at Bullido, Cleveland, Detroit, and Chicago. The appropriation at that time was $88,000, and the contract was made in accordance with that appropriation; but on extended that appropriation; but on extended that appropriation; but on extended the same of the same character as the specific property of the same character as the same of the same of the same character as the same of the same o probably be large enough for the custom-house business, but not for the court rooms and post of fice. The work has therefore been suspended, by order of the Government, till the action of Congress, be had in the matter, us to whether the building is to be enlarged or not. As soon as such action is had the work will go on; and now

s the right season of the year to do such work. As gondleman seem to desire it, I will very briefly state some of the reasons why Milmaukee should be as well considered as other western ci-ties in the dispensation of the benefits of the Federal Government. It is the great commerrial mart or cepter of the whole state. Since the first appropriation of $50,000 for Milwaukee, the population of the city has nearly doubled. Then it was twenty thousand, now it is approaching forty thousand. Its commerce has increased more republy than its population. Its people are enterprising and energetic, and push, with true American vigor, every effort for the credit of the State and the honor of the Union. Since 1850, State and the nonor of the China. Since 1999, four new lines of railroad have been put in operation. They radiate in various directions, and make that city still more the great entrepot, for the business of the surrounding States. Its salubious location, and easy acquisition of every ubious location, and easy acquisition of every comfort and luxury, entice to its splendid sites wealthy capitalists from every part of the world. With such unexpected increase of population and commerce, the plans for custom-house, post-office and court-house accommodations beretofore adopted are now totally inadequate. What I ask is for the interests of the General Government, and the interests of the people I have the honor to represent. Indeed, the bill is demanded by the dictates of the best economy. The provision for enlargement might be more extended, if we take into consideration the steady growth of Milwaukee in every attitude of a great commercial city; but, at present, I only feel bound to offer what is presented for the consideration of the House.

After some further discussion, Mr. McMCLLEN of Va., demanded the yeas and nays, which were not ordered, and the resolution passed. In the Senate, on the same day, the following proceedings were had: Mr. DODGE. A joint resolution (H. R. No. 15) for enlarging the custom house, postoffice, and court house at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was that

P. M., or at i. Mr. D. can be seen at the Hall. Business during the past week in general trade has been selfer. The quantity of goods arriving for both city merchants and to be sent into the interior is beyond precedent, amounting for the meet to about 2000 tons. We note also a brisk trad; amount our wholesals dealers with country merchants, many of whom have found that they can profitably fill up their stocks here.

The weather has been cold till yesterday, when a warm Vaccinate to any amount, at his office on Wisconsin Street opposite Young's Hall, or at the residence of parties, if de sunshine made itself welcome to vegetation, and also to farmers, in the way of drying up the roads, so that they can had produce to the stations, if they desire to do so, which from the small quantity arriving by railroad is rather doubtful. It seems to be conceded, we think, that there is yet a considerable portion of the last years crop in first bands, and that the bolders are confident of a recovery in prices. It may be 30, but the probabilities now are rather in favor of a considerable decline. Prices are kept up here at a very high rate as compared with fig ures cast, and we have now in warehouse 195,000 bus wheat or more.

We have noted for some time past the arrival of oats

ANKEDORE OF HOCK.—At a dinner party at Canting, Coe idge, in lis usual manner, montpolized the conversation, making Spain the text of a three hour's sermon. He gave a sketch of the Meors; was very pathetic over the fill of Boabdil; elaborately described the Alhambra, epitomized Bon Quixote; quoted nearly hall of Calderon and Lope de Vega; drew a vivid picture of Ferdinand and Isruella; denounced their neglect of Columbus, and hostily recapitulated the Feninsular War, including a few bull fights, auto de fe's, etc. At length he concluded by saying, "all these reflections rose to my mind in consequence of my meeting, on my way to this hosiog, "all these reflections rose to my mind in consequence of my meeting, on my way to this hospitable mansion, two of those gallant soldiers, the Life Guards, who fought in the Spanish war under the immortal Wellington."

Hook exclaimed across the table, "what ancs eige we have had; only suppose if Coleridge had met the regiment."

General Joseph Warhen.—It seems that a few weeks since the late Dr. John U. Wanten disinteries from the family tomb, underneath St. Paul's Church, the remains of his mack, General Joseph Warren, whose participation in the memprable fight upon Bunker Hill has rendered his name immortal in the annals of our country. Theywere placed in a stone um, on which acepproprinte epitoph had been engraved, and, with those of other members of the family. The skull was quite perfect, the chin till remaining. Behind one of the cars was seen an aperture, which indicated the place where the fatal fail entered which ended his brief but glorious career.—Ecc. ton Post.
